Until a few years ago, AIVER was wholly funded by private contribution from a small number of individuals. Changes in the economy have made it impossible to continue in this fashion.

AIVER has received major research grants totaling more than $5,000,000 from private corporations and foundations. However, these funds are all committed to ongoing research. Generous private support is needed to permit new research in the coming years.

We invite you to join with us as we continue the work that is still to be done—work in areas of prevention, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation.

AIVER is a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) corporation; contributions are tax deductible to the extent allowed by law. We, and the patients who are in need of advanced knowledge and care, thank you for your generosity.
